A Maid Reclined Beside a Stream.

A maid reclined beside a stream At fall of summer day. And half awake and half a-dream, She watched the ripples play. She marked the waters fall and heave,

The deepening shadows throng, And heard, as darkened down the eve, The river's babbling song.

And thus it sung, with tinkling tongue, That rippling shadowy river-"Youth a brightest day will fade away Forever and forever!"

The twilight past, the moon at last Rose broadly o'er the pight, Each ripple gleams beneath her beams As wrought in silver bright.

The heaving waters glide along, But mingling with their voice, The nightingale now pours his song, And makes the shadows rejoice.

And thus he rung with tuneful tongue, The bird beside the river-"When youth is gone true love shines on Forever and forever."

Don't Stay Long.
